

Election Update with Meretz MK Tamar Zandberg

Israel is going to the polls on March 2nd – for the third time in eleven months! Unlike the two previous elections, however, this time the parties of the Zionist Left, Labor and Meretz, will be running together as a single slate, an arrangement which involved compromises on both sides. MK Zandberg discussed what this means for Meretz’s future and for the Left’s prospects – both in these elections and beyond. She also addressed some of the criticisms of the partnership by Meretz supporters, both in Israel and in the US.
