Online elections for the 2020 World Zionist Congress are underway – and the results will be crucial, impacting the distribution of $5,000,000,000 in budget money over the next five years and affecting every area of Jewish life worldwide and every aspect of life in Israel – including the funding of West Bank settlements.

On 29 January 2020, Nancy Kaufman and Hagit Ofran discussed the World Zionist Congress elections and their importance. The conversation was moderated by Hadar Susskind.
