

Israel-Iran State of Play: What to Expect from the Biden Presidency?

As the presidency of Joe Biden gets underway, what potential shifts in U.S. policy toward Iran might we witness? What responses from Iran and Israel should we expect? How will Israel-Iran tensions play out in Syria? How might Biden's policy impact regional alliances?

On Tuesday, January 26, our panelists Barbara Slavin, Director of the Atlantic Council's Future of Iran Initiative, Dr. Ehud (Udi) Eiran, Senior Lecturer of International Relations at Haifa University, shared their insights on these and other questions. This webinar, part of our "Conversations with Israel & Palestine" series, was moderated by moderator J.J. Goldberg, award-winning journalist and Editor Emeritus of the Jewish Daily Forward.
